All Wrapped Up for Winter

Our SA History Festival event this year featured yarn bombing, with a wide range of knitting and crochet in interesting and fun situations. Following a workshop on Sunday 1 May, the event itself mid-month extended over five days and received 267 visitors.

A giant scarf above the verandah, beanies on each picket of the front fence and other decorations welcomed patrons.

Thank you to the many volunteers who contributed knitting and crochet to the displays. This included members of the local Triple T Club.

One of the highlights was a three dimensional bedspread in the upstairs front bedroom. This was one of three items available for sale via silent auction.

Another highlight was the table laden with plates of sandwiches and sweet delicacies – all in wool!

Almost all items on display were sold off.

JUNE – Curious Collections

This popular event was repeated in June, with a range of new collections plus some old favourites. Jan Dolling coordinated over 20 local collectors who shared their passion(s) on the day.

Donation

The Tea Tree Gully and District Historical Society Inc has continued their long term support of the Museum with a further donation of $3,000.

This will be utilised in the Clarrie's Shed extension project - extending towards the Vines to Wines pavilion. The concrete foundation for this was constructed by the North East Vocational College (NEVC). They will now help us again with another training project providing the labour to construct the building.
